The Zoning Hearing Board Clerk is not authorized to fill out your Zoning hearing Board application, correlate the above items or answer technical questions. If you are not sure how to go about appealing to the zoning hearing board, it is advised that you obtain an attorney to help you.

Attached to this checklist is the appeal and instructions on how to fill out the appeal form.

Plot plans may be hand drawn as long as all information is accurate. It must contain all pertinent zoning information. It must contain the names, addresses and tax parcel numbers of all adjoining owners.

To obtain the Zoning Officers rejection notice you must first submit an application or occupancy permit. You will receive your rejection notice in the mail.

Tax maps may be obtained either in Doylestown at the courthouse or in the township building. In order for us to provide you with a copy your tax map, you will need your tax parcel number from your tax bills the courthouse telephone number is 215-355-7497. Ask for tax mapping.

You can obtain a copy of your deed from the Recorder of Deeds office in Doylestown.

A detailed plan means a plan that shows what you are building.

For deed searches of adjoining owners' properties, you can obtain these at the Recorder of Deeds office in Doylestown.

Notarization. Have the first copy notarized and when you make copies of that form the notarization will show up on all the copies. Submit all copies plus the original.

Important: the Zoning Hearing Board requires submission of proof of notification, of adjoining property owners before appeal can be heard. This is also a requirement of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code for appeals to the Zoning Hearing Board.

Note: The Township will post a zoning notice in a conspicuous place in front of the premises seven (7) days preceding the hearing.

How To Complete A Zoning Hearing Board Application

DEFINITIONS

Application for Challenge: Check this item if you intend to challenge the validity of the zoning ordinance, the zoning map, or any provisions thereof which prohibits or restricts the use or development of land in which the appellant has an interest.

Application from the Administrative Officer is refusing my application for a building permit: Check this item if you think the Zoning Officer acted improperly or in error in refusing your building permit.

Application for Special Exception: Check this item in cases where the zoning ordinance states that special exceptions may be granted or denied by the Zoning Hearing Board.

Application for variance: Check this item when you require a variance from the zoning ordinance in order to build on your property. This may be a variance from setbacks, size of property, use of property, etc. You must prove a hardship and that such hardship was not created by the Appellant.

Application for certification of a non-conforming use/lot: Check this item if the property has existed as a non-conforming use or a non-conforming lot, in single and separate ownership, continuously since prior to 1954 to the present time.

Appellant: The individual applying for the appeal. The Appellant must have a vested interest in the property (owner, lessee, or equitable owner).

Attorney: Please provide this information if an attorney is involved.

Interest of Appellant if not Owner: Lessee or equitable owner.

Instructions for questions 1 through 8:

1. Check all items that apply to your application and that you want considered by the Zoning Hearing Board.
2. Description information:
 - Tax parcel number: this information can be found on your tax bills; at the bucks county court house; or by researching this information at the township building. You must know the owner of record to find this information.
 - Location: The address of the property for which you are applying for an appeal. This includes a street number. If no street number exists, supply the lot number and the street name.
 - Lot size: What are the dimensions of the lot.
 - Present use: What is the use of the property at this time.
 - Present zoning classification: This information may be obtained by applying to the Zoning Officer for a zoning certification or by looking it up on our zoning map at the office of the Bensalem Township Department of Building and Planning.
 - Present improvements upon land: What is on the land now? House, garage, shed, etc. List everything that currently exists on the property. If nothing is on the land state "none".
 - Deed recorded in Doylestown: What are the deed book number and page number(s) of this property? This information can be found on your deed or at the office of the recorder of deeds in Doylestown.
3. What is your basis for challenge? Why do you think the zoning ordinance or zoning map prohibits or restricts your use or development of the land?
4. On what basis did the Zoning Officer issue the rejection? Why do you think the Zoning Officer was in error?
5. List the articles and section numbers of the zoning ordinance you are appealing. This information will be found on the "notice of rejection" form.
6. List the type of action for which you are applying:
 - are you applying for a variance? If yes, for what are you requesting a variance.
 - are you applying for a special exception? If yes, describe the special exception for which you are applying.
 - what is the relief you require from the Zoning Hearing Board?

NOTE:

If more space is required, attach a separate sheet and make specific reference to the questions being answered.

In question #6, above, include the grounds for the appeal or reasons, both with respect to law and fact for granting the Appeal or special exception or variance.

7. Using your own words: Describe why you feel the Zoning Hearing Board should approve your appeal.
8. In the past, have you ever applied for an appeal before the Zoning Hearing Board for this property?
